

FIRST PEOPLES INDIGENOUS CENTRE

The REDress Campus Campaign is an on-campus project that includes a week of related events that will take place from Monday, February 10 to Friday, February 14.

The campaign aims to raise awareness, generate conversation, inspire action and honour those who have been touched by the historic and ongoing crisis of Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women, Girls and Two-Spirit People (MMIWG2S) in Canada.

It is inspired by Métis artist Jaime Black's The REDress Project, an aesthetic response to the MMIWG2S crisis, which is now a permanent exhibit in the Canadian Museum for Human Rights.

LIST OF EVENTS

Monday, February 10

Opening ceremony featuring guest speaker Suzanne Smoke

11:45 a.m. – 1 p.m.

The Atrium, Centre for Collaborative Education, Oshawa campus

Tuesday, February 11

Violence Against Women, Violence Against the Land

Noon to 1:30 p.m.

First Peoples Indigenous Centre, Room 141, Centre for Collaborative Education, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Wednesday, February 12

Arts Open House

9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

First Peoples Indigenous Centre, Room 141, Centre for Collaborative Education, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Wednesday, February 12

Red dress beading workshop

11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

First Peoples Indigenous Centre, Room 141, Centre for Collaborative Education, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Thursday, February 13

Art as Action and Protest: Honouring MMIWG2S

Noon to 2 p.m.

Global Classroom, Room 145, Centre for Collaborative Education, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Friday, February 14

Annual Women's Memorial March – Oshawa campus event

Noon to 12:30

Campus library to Global Classroom, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Friday, February 14

Closing ceremony and feast

12:30 to 2 p.m.

Global Classroom, Room 145, Centre for Collaborative Education, Durham College, Oshawa campus

Visit www.durhamcollege.ca/red-dress for times, locations and more details.